

Title: AM-45-1 to B-R7: Nature Restoration Law vs. EU plan for critical raw materials - challenges to protect nature and food sovereignty

Tabled by: Možemo! – politička platforma

Draft text

Insert from line 44 to 45:

including Partido Ecologista “Os Verdes” in Portugal, which have put these concerns on the political agenda.

Moreover, the Serbian Government has shown unacceptable repression including police brutality towards the citizens and civil society organizations who are challenging the Jadar Valley project. Arbitrary detentions, smear campaigns, unlawful oversight of activists, physical violence, and frequent threats are some of the elements of the repressions we are witnessing against the citizens in Serbia, particularly against environmental activists.

Explanation / Comment

We believe it is important to note undemocratic practices conducted by the Serbian government against its citizens and environmental activists.