Insert after line 64:

- An agreement among member states to impose a minimum wealth tax on multimillionaires to further finance and offset the national contributions to increase in the MFF.

Explanation / Comment

The wealth gap is increasing. While austerity hits the common people, the super rich geteven richer. To reduce inequality we need multimillionaires to contribute more. Ideally we would call for a Euoprean wealth tax as a source of own income. In the context ot the current MFF, we could work through an agreement on a minimum wealth tax with the same parameters in all member states the proceeds of which can (partly) be used to finance the MFF. Member states of course keep the freedom to impose higher wealth taxes to spend on other policy .
