Title: AM-10-1 to Res 4.: Defending the Right to Protest

Tabled by: Miljöpartiet de gröna

Insert after line 10:

In the United Kingdom, the proscription of Palestine Action as a terrorist organisation in 2025 provides a stark example of how freedom of expression and assembly are being restricted in European democracies. Thousands of people have been arrested under counter-terrorism legislation during peaceful demonstrations, many simply for holding placards expressing support for the organisation. Regardless of the legality of an organisation's actions, the criminalisation of peaceful expressions of political support raises profound concerns about fundamental democratic rights.
