Insert from line 520 to 521:

fuels are vulnerable to price hikes and drive inflation, interest rates should be lower for green investments.

At least 50% of ownership for renewable energy projects should be guaranteed local.

Explanation / Comment

One of our basic goals is to have bottom-up local influence and economy. Therefore, with the upcoming increase of sustainable energy production these units should be in the hands of "we, the people". So, a certain percentage of such ownership should be officially guaranteed, only then is a real people's/prosumers network for sustainable energy possible; although preferably the percentage should be much higher.
